SMITHVILLE, N. C., Feb. 3, 1882.

There will be held in the Court House at Smithville, Brunswick county, on the 18th inst., a convention of the colored citizens of said county, to take into consideration and discuss the fact that they are, and have been, deprived of the right—a right guaranteed to them by the Constitution of the United States, and of North Carolina—to serve on juries, as enjoyed by our white fellow citizens; and further, what is best to do in the premises, for an abolition of such unjust treatment of, and denial to, them their constitutional prerogatives. The leading colored citizens of each township in said county will please call meetings in their respective townships on Saturday, the 11th inst., and select three (3) delegates to represent their townships in said convention.

A. V. HORRELL,
Chairman Rep. Com.

It is said by the friends of Mrs. Garfield that she has paid no attention to the Guiteau trial.

How would the rice farmers of the Cape Fear like to have the duties taken off? which will be done if Democracy is successful.

The south has just commenced the manufacturing business, and now the Democrats want to strike manufacturing interest a blow that will be a stunner, by removing the tariff. The south could not be injured worse at this time than by removing the duties which are now imposed on imports.

The Western Union bulletin received here yesterday from Washington, states that Judge Cox overruled the motion of Scoville and Reed, counsel for Chas. Guiteau for a new trial, and sentenced him to be hanged on the 30th day of June, 1882, between the hours of 12 and 2 o'clock, at the jail in the City of Washington.

The reorganization of the marine hospital service so as to put it on a more substantial footing, is the unquestioned duty of Congress. The service is better conducted at this time than ever before, and while this is the case, Congress should put such guarantees around it that the officers of the service will feel secure in their position, and can go on in their good work for the benefit of the hospital bureau without feeling any concern about their own individual tenure. In fact the hospital bureau should be entirely lifted out of the influence of politics, as much so as the army and navy.

The Washington Republican says:—"At the meeting of the House committee on Commerce, on Tuesday, a favorable report was authorized to be made on Representative Roseeran's bill increasing the efficiency of the marine hospital service. It provides that the corps of medical officers shall hereafter consist of one surgeon-general, thirteen surgeons, one medical purveyor, and twenty passed assistant and assistant surgeons." If this bill is approved by the Surgeon-General of the marine hospital service, Dr. Hamilton, we hope it will pass.

CABINET APPOINTMENTS.

We know of no man who would fill a position in the Cabinet more agreeably to the southern people, and with more ability to the country generally, and to the satisfaction of the President, than Hon. Kenneth Raynor of Mississippi, formerly of North Carolina, who served many years in Congress, and has been for the past four years Solicitor of the Treasury. We would be glad to see him have the position.

Colonel William Johnson has never denied being in favor of an independent party. And those Democrats who are so anxious to bulldoze him into saying that he will continue to act with that party in the future, have made and will continue to make a total failure. The fact is Col. Johnson and Maj. Charles Price are independent anti-prohibition Democrats, and will not act with the Democratic party in the future unless there is a change of leaders and a change of the party policy. "They are anti-prohibitionits." "In favor of local self-government," "a free ballot and a fair count, equal rights in the courts for all citizens. And we have no doubt but what they will be found on the hustings next summer advocating those principles, regardless of party ties.

The Virginia legislature has passed the bill changing the constitution so as to allow men to vote who have not paid their poll tax. The bill has passed two legislatures and will now be submitted to the people for ratification, which will unquestionably be done, by a large majority. The whipping post has not yet been abolished, but it is thought the bill will pass during the present session.

The Massey difficulty is still going on. The caucus of the Readjusters wanted to name Mr. Massey's subordinate as auditor of public accounts, this Mr. Massey would not submit to, and the caucus refused to renominate Mr. Massey as auditor, and a young man by the name of S. Brown Allen was nominated. But when the legislature came to act on the matter, six Readjusters in the Senate bolted, and they, acting with the Democrats, have prevented an election up to this time. The fight has grown to be a very bitter one, and unless healed very soon will do great harm to the Readjuster independent party of that state.

Governor Jarvis Speaks on the School Book Question.

Governor Jarvis has taken occasion through the columns of the Raleigh Banner to set himself right on the school book question. He states in very plain English, that it was not his purpose nor was it the purpose of the state board of education to compel the use of the books which the board saw fit to recommend. That the law required such action and the board could not avoid the duty imposed. That no school committee, county superintendent or teacher, is bound by the recommendations of the board, but are entirely at liberty to exercise their best judgment in selecting proper books for the use of the schools under their charge. We fully agree with the Governor in his view both of the letter and spirit of the law. We have always held that the law means just what the Governor says it does. But if this be so, whence does the State Superintendent of Public Instruction derive the authority to represent and declare to local school committeemen that the action of the state board in the matter is compulsory law and must be strictly enforced? And why have teachers all over the state been forced to lay aside books which they preferred and made to accept the new books?—That Mr. Scarborough under cover of his office and the action of the state board, has assumed such authority; no one conversant with the facts will affect to deny. Schools committees and teachers throughout the state say that he has thus interpreted the law to them, and upon such interpretation they have been compelled to act. If the Governor has correctly stated the position of the board and the meaning of the law, then Mr. Scarborough has grossly perverted his high office and richly merits universal condemnation.

There is a piece of rascality in this little game that is being played at the expense of the poor people of the state, and to the detriment of education, which should be unearthed and exposed in all of its hideous blackness. Could anybody of men having the least degree of discrimination in such a matter have even recommended such books as many of these composing the series put forth by the board, solely upon their merits?—Can it be possible that North Carolina has a State Superintendent of Education and a State Educational Board composed of her highest executive officers, who are so ignorantly blind as to recommend Holmes' reader as being the BEST in the market? Do the people of North Carolina believe that Alexander Stephens, the late Vice-President of the Confederacy, has written a better and a more impartial history of the country which he did all in his power to destroy, than the able professional historians whose works are standard and are used in all the best schools of the nation? And last, but not least, is Moore's "History of North Carolina," which, aside from its many glaring inaccuracies, is nothing more than a Democratic catechism from which that party, through its representatives at the capital, would have our children learn the inception, progress and termination of the terrible conflict which wrought the deliverance of the country from the foul blot of human slavery. No; these books were not recommended on account of superiority over other books of like nature, nor is that the motive which has moved Mr. Superintendent Scarborough, contrary to the understanding of the board as stated by Gov. Jarvis, and contrary to the law as it passed the legislature, to make the impression upon school officers throughout the state that there is no appeal from the action of the state board. Mr. Scarborough's motives and the motives of the board in making such recommendations, are much deeper. It is the price they would have us pay to perpetuate sectional prejudices, party bitterness and the dangerous political dogmas, which have already with knarled hand, grasped for the very vitals of the great Republic. It matters but little that our schools and our little ones must suffer on this account.—It matters not that thousands and thousands of hard earned dollars wrung from a poor people struggling between existence and its end, must go to meet the demand. It matters not that teachers protest and parents complain. The decree has gone forth that the pet publishers of the ring must be rewarded for their labors and regardless of all other consideration the order must be executed.

The University Readers.

(In our article of last issue as in some others, a number of typographical errors occurred which the reader must have readily detected. Our chirography is not after the best model and the wonder is that more, and graver mistakes have not been occasioned.)

We will take a few more examples in defective punctuation.

"A grasshopper, who, by chance had not been killed," &c—(3rd p. III.) There is no reason for a comma before and after WHO. There are obvious reasons why there should be none. This also may be a proper place to remark that making who represent the grasshopper proper, because the grasshopper is personified and made to talk. This rule however is disregarded in most of the fables in this series. Fable, once so common, holds but an indifferent place in the best literature, and it is too prominent in these readers. Fables have had their day, and their little moral can be better taught in another way.

When NOW, or any one word, without close connections, introduces a sentence, it is not necessarily set off by a comma, as,—"Now, turn over a new leaf";—"Now, these rays were so bright" &c.

"Oh, aunt, aunt! said Eliza, one fair morning towards the end of August, "here is uncle come from his walk, and he has brought such a pretty little bird!" (4th p. 74.)

Who does not know that in uttering "oh aunt," the pause is so very slight that it is of very little importance, and to mark the same pause there, as after August, is a mistake. When a compound sentence is long, and is composed of two general members that require to be broken up into parts, more closely connected the two members should be separated by a semicolon, and then each should be broken up by commas if desired. Therefore there should be a semi-colon after August. Very much could be said on this subject, but we can do little more than call attention to it.

One word more: as to grading: After going through the series, it is difficult to understand how such an incongruity in this respect has been gathered within a few hundred pages. For instance, in the Third book, page 118, we have almost a literal adaptation of that chef d'œuvre of Longfellow's, "Hewatho's Hunting."—(This would not have not been out of place in the 5th Reader—and is to be found in many of the various 5th Readers with which we are familiar.) Contrast this gem with such trashy doggerel as the adaptation of "Barbara Blue," page 133 same book, or with the Dialogue on page 132? where we are told that "A horse is an animal of the quadruped kind, whole hoofed, with short erect ears, a flowing mane, and a tail covered with long hair"!

In dismissing these readers we must remark that they do not contain a single element that would give them the preference over other books now in use, and the only thing that could justify a new set of readers, would be an advance in excellence. Every distinctive feature of these books, can be found in better form in other books, and this fact is sufficient to settle all questions in relation to their claims. We specially invite the attention of teachers and school committeemen to this important view of the whole subject.

The choice of school books is not a matter of latitude nor favoritism. There are higher considerations. The great interests of education, and the program of literature, art and science, should not be compromised to the claims of sectional prejudices nor party strifes.

Progress should be our polar star, merit be our favoritism, and impartiality the scale in which to weigh all conflicting claims.

CITY ITEMS.

Bishop J. W. Hood, of the A. M. E. Zion Church of the North Carolina District, is expected in the city the coming week.

Dr. Fairfax Irwin, and the officers and employees of the Marine Hospital, will appear in uniform on and after Wednesday next.

John A. Owens, recently pardoned from the Penitentiary, has been delivering lectures in the Second Baptist Church, of this city, addressed particularly to young men and young women.

Dr. Fairfax Irwin, surgeon in charge of the Marine Hospital, has received notice from the Collector at Brunswick, Georgia, that he has sent a sailor by the name of John Beckwell to the hospital here for treatment. It is feared that the sailor has been permanently injured by falling from the mast of a vessel.

COL. O. H. BLOCKER.—This loyal son of North Carolina has been lying quite sick at his plantation near Fayetteville, we are glad to inform his many friends that he is "on the mend," as the doctors would say. We can't afford to let the old man hand in his checks yet, notwithstanding the fact that he has retired from office and become a respectable gentleman. The country will, some of these days, demand his services again. And, in fact, Blocker is too good a man to be hid in the backwoods, making cotton and corn, and we expect to see him some day holding high political position.

A COUPLE OF SWINDLERS.—Two colored men, named Dick Boston and Nat Hill, were arrested a few days ago for swindling a colored man from the country, named Andrew Hill, out of $18 in money, which had just been paid him for a lot of turpentine. They enticed the man in an out of the way place, under the pretext of giving him some useful information, and then Boston snatched his money and ran off with it, followed by his confederate. The two worthies were before Justice McQuigg Thursday morning, who required them to give justified bonds in the sum of $100 each for their appearance at court, failing in which they were locked up. They are represented to be experts in the pusiness of swindling.

NARROW ESCAPE FROM DROWNING.—While the steamer Passport was on her way from Smithville to this city, on Sunday afternoon last with a barque in tow, and as she was passing in the vacinity of the Orton plantation, a boat containing two men, one white and the other colored, put out from the shore with the intention of boarding the barque. The sea was very heavy at the time, and in order to get in as smooth water as possible, the boat was run in between the barque and steamer, when she struck against an anchor suspended from the bow of the bark and was capsized. As the boat went over the men seized the forechains of the barque and were finally assisted on board, but the boat, which was a fine one, was lost.

RAILROAD IN PENDER.—The Angola Tramway Company, of Pender county, was organized a few days ago, with Messrs. Gibson Taylor as President; D. J. McMillan as Secretary, K. F. Powers as Secretary and Treasurer, and J. W. Jones, J. K. James, K. F. Powers, Gibson James and D. J. McMillan as Directors. The road is to run from Croom's bridge, on North East river, through what is known as Angola Bay, to Williamsburg, a distance of about nine miles. The Company own large and valuable tracts of timber land at the latter place, and expect at an early day to locate a lumber business there, where they have also immense quantities of naval stores and other produce. The Company propose to hereafter extend their road to Jacksonville and Richlands, Onslow county, and build a branch from Williamsburg to Chinquapin. It is said that the road will be pressed to an early completion.

Rev. F. H. Wood, of the Front Street M. E. Church, was "pounded" by members of his congregation Thursday night.

Rev. C. M. Payne, of the Second Presbyterian Church, will preach at St. Paul's Lutheran Church this evening, at 7½ o'clock.

Mr. Isaac James, an old citizen of Pender county, died suddenly on Wednesday morning last, aged between 50 and 60 years.

The Wilmington Fox Club had an exciting chase near this city Thursday afternoon, in which a number of the old hunters participated. The fox was a select one and highly fed.

Rev. T. Page Ricaud, of the Fifth Street M. E. Church, will deliver a special sermon this morning, by request, on the subject of "The Divinity of Christ."

Bishop Lyman will preach at St. James' Church this morning, at the usual hour for service, and will ordain Mr. Armand DeRosset Meares, of this city, as Deacon in the Protestant Episcopal Church.

Mr. Joseph M. Agostini, brother of Mr. F. M. Agostina, Sr, of this city, was brutally murdered on Thursday night last, at Newbern, by a colored employe of the Midland Railroad named Henry Bryan, in the office of the company.

Jim Anderson, the colored drayman, who was pronounced crazy and sent to the insane department of the county poor house for confinement on Tuesday, the 24th inst., is now said to be a raving maniac, and efforts are being made to get him into the Asylum for the Insane at Goldsboro.

NEW SHOPS.—The Wilmington and Weldon Railroad Company have just commenced the erection of new shops on Nutt street, or between Front and Nutt streets. The shops will be very large and commodies, and have all the late modern improvements. Mr. P. Linehan has the contract, and now has about 15 men at work putting down the foundation. Mr. John L. Mann is Mr. Lincham's foreman. The work is expected to be shoved rapidly to completion, and when finished will be a great improvement to that portion of the city. Mr. Patrick Linehan is one of the largest and most successful railroad stone contractors in the south; as a bridge builder he has no superior, and he runs several quarries of his own. He does nearly all the brick and stone work of the railroads in this state and South Carolina, and has had several large contrats in Virginia and Tennessee.

THE LIGHTHOUSE.—The first number of volume II of this very interesting and highly creditable publication has been laid upon our desk. The Lighthouse is an eight page paper, and is gotten out under the superintendance of Miss Amy M. Bradley, Principal of the Tileston Normal School, with Master W. H. Chadbourn, Jr., one of her pupils, as typo and business agent. We notice several original articles by the pupils of the Tileston, which reflects much credit upon the authors. "Harry Burton's Cousin," by Miss Mary A. Bernard, is very readable. Miss Mollie J. Hawes contributes a very interesting and well written paper on "The Water Fowl." Master W. H. Chadbourn, Jr., paper "A look into the future with regard to the timber interest of the United States," shows much thought and a thorough knowledge of the subject which the youthful writer handles. "Queen Mabs" criticism of the works of Scott, Dickens and Thackery, is exceedingly interesting, and shows conclusively that she is no stranger to them. "A Picture," by Jessie Hendey is very good, as is also Master A. P. Hallett's contribution. The productions of Stephen Chadbourn, age 9 years, and Flora Greenwald, age 11, are capital for ones so young.

From the Lighthouse we glean some interesting information in reference to the Tileston Normal School. There are at present eleven teachers employed in the different divisions, and that 231 childrens names are enrolled upon the roster of the school. The great good that this school, through the munificent gifts of its founder, Mrs. Hemingway, has done, and is still doing, is making itself felt in the community. May the Lighthouse stand the storms of adversity, and live to be a true beacon to the paths of education and refinement. Miss Bradley has our best wishes, and we gladly welcome the Lighthouse to our exchange list. Subscription $1.00 for six months. Advertisements 10 cents per line first insertion. A liberal discount on advertisements for longer time.

Hon. John C. Blocker, member of the legislature from Cumberland county, was in the city on Friday last, but rushed out of town as if the Sheriff was after him.

Obediah Jenkins was before the Mayor on Monday with his old complaint—drunkenness and disorderly conduct—and was released on the promise of reforming.

The mag strates have been going for boarding house keepers, during the past week, for Schedule B taxes, and some of them have had pretty heavy costs to pay.

Rev. A. D. Mayo, of Boston, Mass., has delivered several lectures in this city during the past week on educational subjects. He is an able man and is doing a good work.

Dave Mallett, an incorrigible drunkard, was before the Mayor Tuesday morning for being down on the streets, and was ordered to be locked up in the city prison for eight days.

Rt. Rev. Bishop J. W. Hood passed through our city on Friday morning on his way to Smithville, N. C He is looking exceedingly well, and says he never enjoyed better health.

A French sailor, giving his name as Joseph Tantabont, was before the Mayor Thursday morning on the charge of chasing young ladies on the street He was let off on the payment of $5.

An attempt was made to burglarize the residence of Health Officer Scharff, corner of Fourth and Campbell streets, on Wednesday morning last. The burglars were frightened off and a key was afterwards found in the lock on the outside of one of the doors.

We learn from phrenols posted in this city that the sons of Messrs. E. A. Brewer and W. J. Johnson, of Rockfish township, Cumberland county, ran away from their parents and homes on Sunday morning last, and great anxiety is felt as to their whereabouts.

The schr. American Eagle, Capt. Calhoun, put in at this port on Tuesday last in distress, having sprung a leak, which necessitated the throwing overboard of her deck-load. She was from Georgetown, S. C., and bound for Philadelphia with a cargo of lumber and shingles.

Mr. J. K. Willis, of Brunswick county, informs us by a letter this week that the present Register of Deeds of that county has by his courteous treatment of all who have dealings with him, won the confidence of the people, and can be re elected if he so desires, by an increased majority.

The U. S. Treasurer's report shows a further decrease of the public debt for January, 1882, of $12,978,836.36, and still the Republican party is in charge of the government. If the party remains in power ten years more it will wipe out the entire debt that was made in putting down the rebellion.

Messrs. Heaven & Co., of this city, have a water boat, constructed in New York, for supplying vessels in our harbor with any quantity of pure water. It has a capacity of 1,500 gallons, being made of oak with a tank inside. The boat will receive the water through a pipe leading from a filterer located on the wharf.

There were three incendiary attempts in this city on Sunday night last, which were frustrated by the police. The first of these was on Front street, where three bales of cotton were discovered on fire; and the next was on south Water street, fire having been discovered among a lot of cotton belonging to Messrs. Isall and Pennell. The other attempt was by stuffing cotton saturated with inflammable fluid in crevices of the building occupied by Mr. F. A. Schutte as a restaurant.

Yesterday was a blustery day, the wind blowing a gale from the southwest. During the height of the storm the old steamer Waccamaw, the barge Modoc and the schr. Siam, which were lying abreast of each other at a wharf on the west side of the river, broke loose from their moorings and were swept across to the east side of the river, but fortunately caused no damage. There was a heavy rainfall during the forenoon.

CHARLOTTE OBSERVER.

In our last issue we found ourselves compelled to denounce Jones, the editor of the Charlotte Observer, as a lying puppy; and "Pickup," the Observer's Washington correspondent, a lying dog. Men with the slightest self-respect or manhood would have called upon us before this for satisfaction—neither of them have done so. They have pleaded guilty to the charge, and have shown themselves to be what we here and now brand upon their foreheads: liars, paltroons and cowards. And now we turn them loose to roam upon the slums and filth that whelps of their kind can only enjoy, Adieu.

The news from Washington is very encouraging concerning the appointment of Hon. William E. Chandler as Secretary of the Navy. There is no question of his fitness for the place, and it is sincerely wished by all, that he will be yet appointed. There is no better man in the country than Mr. Chandler for any office in the gift of the President.

We publish on the third page a communication from Washington, written by a North Carolinian, which very justly compliments Mr. Olando Hubbs, our Republican member of Congress. Mr. Hubbs is the sole representative of 120,000 Republican voters of North Carolina, in the Congress of the United States, and we have no doubt but what he will honestly represent them. He is a Republican, and one who does not think the color of a man's skin disqualifies him for office or other privileges that American citizens are entitled to,

MR. BLAINE has published a long and able defence of his conduct, while Secretary of State, towards Peru and Chili. He takes the ground that England is backing Chili's war on Peru for the purpose of controlling the vast guano beds of the latter country, and we have no doubt but what Mr. Blaine is right about this matter. But whether we should go to the extent that Mr. Blaine's policy indicated or not, is the important question to be considered; and from the cool manner President Arthur has taken hold of the subject he certainly does not intend to be hurried into a war with Chili.

Now, look here, Latham, this dying business is bad enough without being ridiculed about it. As a "dying gladiator," the first thing you know we will haul on our war paint, and then there will be another dying gladiator, not on the Cape Fear, either. Let us shake hands across the "bloody chasm," or take a drink, either. Come, now, we have plenty of water here, but we know your stomach would be surprised at anything so weak, however, we have a little blockade left from the last editorial convention which we will turn over to you, and just to be sociable we might be persuaded to join you, provided, nevertheless, that you will swear when we jingle our glasses that you will never call us a gladiator again. Such offensive epithets cannot be tolerated by this slinger of editorial ink, and should it be repeated we will charter a whole train and go to—just as far from Newbern as we can get.

NOT DEAD BUT SLEEPETH.

We have been led to believe from all reports that John Sherman, of Ohio, was dead previous to the assembling of Congress. It was the universal verdict of his enemies that he had gone entirely, never to be heard of again, and on the very day that the Senate convenes he offers a financial bill that has taken up the entire time of the Senate, since it proved of such importance, and Senator Sherman came forward at once and has without the slightest difficulty assumed the leadership of the Senate on all financial questions. He is a big man yet, and we are proud to believe from the manner that he has been kicking around lately that he was not dead at all, but only sleeping and resting for the great fight before him, which he is now making for the country's good. Ohio may well be proud of her Senator. He is one of the Senatorial giants, and is an honor to his state and his country.

FALL OF M. GAMBETTA.

Only sixty days ago we recorded the triumph of M. Gambetta, the great French statesman. He was elected President of the Chamber and then made Prime Minister by the handsomest majority of any man who ever assumed control of the government.—Notwithstanding the great majority that he received on his entering the Premiership, on Friday last he was forced to resign on account of losing control of the Chamber of Deputies, and one of his bitterest foes has been called to the head of the government, M. de Freycinet, President of the Council and Minister of Foreign Relations. Gambetta is not dead, he will never die; his following in France to-day is greater than that of any other living man, and he will yet be President of the Republican. Long live Gambetta is the wish of all good Republicans.

NATIONAL EDUCATION.

The children of the south have been neglected, and are being neglected to-day, and will be neglected as long as the present party has control of the state and county governments. North Carolina provides a sufficient sum to run the public schools in the country about thirty days in the year. In some counties the public schools are run two months each year, but in a large majority of the counties thirty days is the average time. We not only have a right to complain of the length of time the schools are kept open, but the quality of the teachers is a subject of general complaint all over the state. Our Democratic school managers seem to care very little about the qualifications of the teachers of the white schools, but, in a large majority of cases, when they employ teachers for the colored schools they seem to take great delight in getting the very poorest to be found among the applicants. It is thought by many of the friends of the colored people that this is done as a means of checking the education of our colored population.

How to remedy the above evil is the great question to be decided by all friends of universal education. In our opinion there is but one remedy, and that is to have a National Educational Law passed. Let the national government appropriate money, employ experienced teachers and see that all the children of the nation are properly and thoroughly educated. Let us have a Department of Education as we have a Postoffice Department, and a Department of Justice, and a Cabinet Minister whose duty it will be to appoint managers for the public schools in different states, counties and school districts, and appropriate sufficient funds from the national treasury to keep the schools running ten months in every year, then have a compulsory law compelling every child between the ages of seven and twenty-one years to attend school until graduated.

The national government is rich and able to pay the expense of public schools, our states are poor and generally managed by men who are opposed to educating the masses. The old bourbons of the south never wanted a poor white man's child educated any more than they did the negro. Now they are opposed to a national educational system from the fact that they know the result will be to the great benefit of our poor people, both white and colored. And, again; they will do all they can to prevent a national educational system from the fact that it will remove a large number of old fossils, who are at the head of state educational matters on account of services to the Confederacy, or the number of negroes owned previous to the war. And, again; on account of the fact that they will not be able to force school books, disloyal to the national government, on the children. All of these things will cause certain of the so-called aristocracy of the south to fight the bill; but that it is right and will be of exceeding great benefit to the people there can be no doubt. In ten years after that is done, and it will be done sooner or later, it will be in North Carolina as it is to-day in Illinois, 98½ per cent. of the population will be able to read and write: not as it is to-day in North Carolina, 48 per cent. unable to read or write, which is a disgrace to the state and the people.

With a National Educational Law, plenty of money and good teachers, where loyalty will be cultivated in the children instead of treason, the future of the state will be very bright indeed. For then the colored child will be educated as well as the white; the poor child as well as the rich, and, in fact, all will receive good business educational qualifications, it matters not what his color or condition in life.

A Washington dispatch says that the attacks upon ex-Senator Sargent have had the very opposite result from what was intended. Instead of destroying his prospects for a Cabinet position, they have occasioned an investigation which has not only put him right on the record, but has developed his strength and statesmanship, as well as demonstrating his integrity.—Inter-Ocean.

The attacks on men's private character now-a-days for the purpose of injuries have got to be frequent, and we are glad to see that Senator Sargent has lived down his defamers. We know a plenty of contemptible barking curs in this state who are in the habit of hiring newspaper scavengers to do their dirty work, too cowardly to do it themselves. They shall not escape us. We will expose them, and when we commence their cries and howls will avail them nothing. We believe we can make the fur fly, and the lying curs when we commence shall have all we can give them.

Mr. Scovill, counsel for Guiteau, has issued an address to the people of the United States, pleading for money to make the defence. Such a thing is exceedingly impudent. The idea of a man who has deliberately murdered the President of the United States calling upon the citizens to advance money towards his defence. Instead of advancing money they ought to take him out and hang him to the first limb, and save the expense of another trial, in case Judge Cox should grant him one.

JUSTICE HUNT RETIRED.

The bill offered by Senator Davis, of Illinois, to retire Justice Hunt on account of inability to perform his duties went through both houses of Congress inside of six days, and become a law. So Justice Hunt is now on the retired list, at his pay of $10,000 a year during his life, and another man in his place performing his duty and also drawing pay from the government. We are opposed to all such extravagance for a Republican Democratic government. It will not do.

POSTAL SAVINGS BANK.

The Postoffice committee of the House has, so we learn, decided to report a bill to the House establishing a postal savings bank. This is certainly good news, and it is sincerely hoped by all our people that the bill may be reported and passed very soon. It will be the means of saving millions to our people and the government at the same time make millions out of it, as the money could be invested in government bonds at 2½ per cent. In ten years the deposits in the postal savings bank would be sufficient to pay the national debt; the interest would only be 2½ instead of from 3½ to 5 per cent. as the government is now paying.

NEW YORK.

The last election a majority of Democratic members was returned. On the first of January the legislature convened, and they have been there at Albany fighting ever since, unable to agree on the officers of the Senate and House, and this is what we understand is Democratic harmony. May they continue on, for when thieves fall out honest men will get their dues, and we hope and believe it will be the case in this rumpus at the Capital of New York. It is Tammany against Boss Tilden, one ring against another. The Tammany ring is not quite as large as the Tilden (cipher dispatcher) ring is, but the Tammany ring seems to be very strong and bids fair to last all summer.

NEWSPAPERS.

We would like to see more papers and more readers to the news and political papers of the state, but they ought to be started on a permanent basis. This way of a person starting a paper without a dollar and imposing on a confiding public to get a lot of subscribers and then allow it to go down is disgraceful. Every campaign year we have them springing up in North Carolina like mushrooms, and they are cut down about as rapidly, but they succeed in doing great harm to honest journalism in the state. The papers that are published the year round have to suffer on account of these mushroom organs. We like to aid our neighbors in their undertakings, but they should be able to insure a circulation of at least twelve months before publishing the first issue, and then subscribers would not be cheated out of their money. We are to-day publishing the oldest Republican paper in the state, and those who desire to subscribe to a paper permanently established can do so by taking the POST without hunting for mushroom organs.

GUITEAU GUILTY.

The jury in the Guiteau trial was out only twenty minutes and brought in a verdict of guilty in the first degree. That he will be hung there can be no doubt, and that he ought to be, every man, woman and child in this country will admit. But we have thousands just as guilty as Guiteau in the United States. Most of them were too cowardly to commit the murder themselves, but they wanted Garfield murdered, and when he died slapped their hands with joy. We know men in North Carolina, holding high office, who have said since, that they were glad of Garfield's death, and laughed about it—made no secret of their joy—and one officeholder said the d—d rascal ought to have been shot long before he was. It is true he was turned out, but we have since learned that he has been reinstated. One man who demands that no appointments be made in North Carolina without his approval, said in the presence of friends, when he heard of Garfield's death, "now we will have our day, thank God." Such declarations as the above have been frequent since the death of President Garfield; and we ask with all candor what is the difference between Guiteau and these miserable cowardly rascals who rejoiced at Guiteau's fiendish work? In our opinion one is just as guilty as the other. Every man who rejoiced at the death of the President of the nation, is in heart a murderer, and deserves the same punishment that Charles Guiteau will receive.

It is proposed for Congress to pass a law to publish the names of applicants for pensions in the newspapers where the applicant claims his residence. This will, in the opinion of the friends of the bill, prevent frauds. We certainly believe it will be of great benefit and hope the bill will be passed. It will certainly prevent men from applying if they are not entitled to pensions.

PITTSBORO ARGUS.

Messrs. J. W. & L. B. Chapin have just commenced the publication of a very excellent little eight page paper at Pittsboro, Chatham county, called the Argus. Their editorial prospectus is so exceedingly good that we publish it below in full. The principles therein set forth are of the very best, and ought to receive the endorsement of every man in North Carolina. We hope these gentlemen will meet with good success.

OURSELVES.

Having purchased the office of the Hamlet Argus, the paper will be issued hereafter from Pittsboro every Thursday as the Chatham Argus. Custom and due regard for the opinions of the public, demand that we make known those principles which will guide us in the columns of this paper. We shall be independent in the discussion of everything, neutral in nothing; marked by a strict regard for truth and honesty we shall discuss the conduct of all pulic officers in the same spirit. Believing the fathers of the Republic intended to found a free government, we shall labor earnestly to make this a government of the people, by the people, and for the whole people.

We most implicitly believe in a free discussion of all questions by all peopeople, a free ballot for all entitled to cast it, and then a fair count by public officers.

We are opposed to all intimidation, no matter under what name or guise it may be concealed. Taxation without representation is tyranny, and we shall ever favor the election of all county, township, and school officers by the people, and then holding them, as public servants entrusted with important duties, to a strict accountability to the people.

We shall oppose all monopolies, class legislation, or any infringement on the rights of the people. I shall be our aim to do what in us may lay to aid in removing all animosities, in restoring harmony among all sections of the coutry, in elevating the tone of the political strifes of the people, in encouraging reform, honesty and economy in the administration of political affairs, in bringing into discussion and under the consideration of the public the higher questions of political science which look to the regulation and best government of the state, the development of its reasources, the protection of the citizens, and the peace, safety, and best interests of the nation. Natives of North Carolina, born and raised in the county of Chatham, we shall do all in our power to advance the moral, educational, and material interest of their native county. This county, with its great water power and mineral resources, has all the elements to make it not only one of the first counties in the state, but even one of the first counties of the nation. Let all true sons of Chatham labor for her development.

Growth of the Cities.

France in 1876 had nine cities with a population over 100,000, and twenty-one cities with a population over 50,000. Paris in 1876 had a population 1,988,806, and in 1881 a population of 2,300,000. England in 1877 had thirteen cities with a population over 100,000. London had a population of 3,633,484, Liverpool 527,083, Manchester 500,397, Birmingham 377,436, Leeds 291,580, Sheffield 274,914. This list includes all the English cities with a population of over 200,000.

In 1880 the United States had ten cities with a population 200,000, twenty with a population over 100,000, thirty-five with a population over 50,000, and one hundred with a population over 20,000. Census bulletin No. 274 gives the population of these 100 cities in detail, classifying as to male and female, foreign and native, white and colored.

In all the eastern and southern cities and in Cincinnati, Indianapolis, Milwaukee, Detroit, Peoria, Davenport, Dubuque, Salt Lake, Quincy, and Springfield of the western cities the females outnumber the females outnumber the males. In Chicago, St. Louis, Kansas City, Minneapolis, St. Paul, Denver, Omaha, and Desmoines the males outnumber the females. In New York there are 25,271 more females than males; in Philadelphia 35,220; in Brooklyn 22,167; in Boston 18,303; in Baltimore 17,527; in Washington 10,673; in New Orleans 13,306; in Louisville 5,794. In the population of New York are included 731 Chinese, 16 Japanese and 46 Indians; in Philadelphia 78 Chinese, 1 Japanese, and 30 Indians; in Brooklyn 121 Chinese and 20 Indians; in Chico 171 Chinese, 2 Japanese and 37 Indians; Boston 118 Chinese, 3 Japanese and 19 Indians; St. Louis, 56 Chinese and 15 Indians; San Francisco, 21,745 Chinese, 45 Japanese and 45 Indians; Denver, 236 Chinese and 12 Indians; Oakland, California, 1,974 Chinese, 8 Japanese and 7 Indians; Sacramento, 1,731 Chinese and 4 Indians.

The total population of the 100 cities having more than 20,000 inhabitants is 8,910,814, or nearly 16 per cent of the population of the whole country.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

A Great Baby.

CARTERET NEWS.

BEAUFORT, N. C., Jan. 31, 1882.

EDITOR POST:—Our harbor, thanks to the new management of our railroad, under the Presidency of Mr. W. J. Best, is a port of entry indeed. The Norwegian barque Regulus, Capt. Holte, loaded with 740 tons steel rails for the Midland Road, is now lying at the railroad depot, and will be discharged this week. A large brig and a full rigged ship have already cleared from Wales, and are daily expected to arrive here with like cargoes. The company, we learn, have purchased 5,000 tons of rails, and ere long we hope to see the steam horse running over the "Midland" from Morehead City to Salisbury and on still further. We have been left out in the cold for a long time, and now we begin to feel, that with the success of the Midland, our fondest hopes will be realized.

The steamship Mayaguez, of Bilbao, Spain, 1,024 tons, Capt. D. Celestino de Mendezona, from Porto Rico, came into our harbor on the 27th inst., through a mistake. She was ordered to Beaufort, Carolina, and the Captain, after his arrival here, found out that Beaufort, South Carolina, was the port he should have sailed for, and not this port. She carries 3,300 bales of compressed cotton, and will load for Liverpool. The steam yacht Emilie, 30 tons, Captain Wright, from Perth Amboy, N. J., bound to Jacksonville, Fla., is also lying at the railroad depot. She is a fine yacht. Her owner in now in Florida awaiting her arrival.

The Collector of our port, Col. A. C. Davis, has been kept quite busy for the past week, but he is the right man in the right place, and is equal for any emergency. The Collector, we learn, has received information to the effect that North West Point Light House is about to be re-established, and we trust soon to note the re-establishment of Harbor Island Light House. It is a light of vast benefit to our people as well as to all seamen who are cruising through our sounds.

Work is progressing finely on the old Harlowe and Clubfoot canal, (now called the Newbern and Beaufort canal.) When a man like Com. Marshall Parks, of Norfolk, Va., takes hold of anything he means business and will push the work.

The political horizon looks dark for the "Bourbons." Our county is split from centre to circumference, for since the death of James Rumley their party is without a leader. He was a man who had the entire confidence of the people, and was honest and true. A man whose influence was widespread. He had held the position of county and Superior Court Clerk for nearly forty years. He is gone, and their party cannot replace him. They already see the handwriting on the wall. The people of our county cry out for the privilege of electing all of their county officers. It is their right, and they will defeat any party at the ballot box who oppose it. We are proud of the course the POST has pursued in the past, do not falter in the future, beard the lion in his den, your reward is near at hand, and then the people will rise up and say well done good and faithful servant. The Republican party is a progressive party, a party that gives every man equal rights before the law; this is right and just—speed the day when the great principles of this grand old party will become universal.

The weather with us has been foggy with much rain during the month. We have had but few cold days. Such weather in the month of January is unusual.

Our farmers are preparing their lands for a large crop this year. If old Carteret is successful in making a good crop the coming season her people will be on their feet again.

Wishing the POST abundant success, I am, yours, &c., QUID NUNC.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., Jan. 31, 1882.

Mr. W. P. Canaday, Editor Post:

DEAR SIR:—In regard to the work commenced in behalf of our people, I am more than happy to hear is progressing so finely, and I hope our people of Mecklenburg county will take hold of the matter and assist in making the state convention of the colored people a success on the 29th of March, 1882, at Goldsboro, N. C. It is the solemn duty of all leading colored men to see that their people in each and every county in the state is thoroughly aroused on this important question. And when they are posted as to their rights, and take the proper steps, and act altogether, their liberties will be perfectly safe. The laws of the land should be enforced, and if it is impossible the country at large should know it. It will not pay the colored people of our county to wait, they must move at once if they expect to reap the victory.

I see that the prohibition election gives the Republican party a great push upward. I was talking with a Democrat to-day, and he swears that he will never vote another Democratic ticket again. "Well," says I, "how come you to so decide?" he answered, "that the Democratic party was a mean fraud, and from what he read in the POST the Republican party was the party of liberty, and he should support it." The Democratic party mourns the loss of Col. Wm. Johnson very much.

Very truly yours,
R. M. HARLLEE.

HAMILTON, N. C., Jan. 30, 1882.

Hon. W. P. Canaday, Wilmington, N. C:

DEAR SIR:—I see in the Wilmington POST an article recommending a reunion of Companies G. and H., of the 10th N. C. Regiment. I, as a member of Company G, heartily agree to the proposition, and would recommend one of the two places, Goldsboro or Beaufort, and would also recommend that they meet on the 20th day of May, as it is a day notable in the history of our state on two or more occasions.

Respectfully, &c.,
T. B. HARKETT.

LAURINBURG, N. C., Jan. 29, '82.

HON. W. P. CANADAY:

By special invitation of Prof. N. W. Harllee to visit and spend a few days with him during the M. E. Conference, I landed here on Saturday, January 28, 1882, and was met and welcomed by Prof. Harllee, J. S. Lewis, A. W. Covington and Daniel McRae, and have been the guest of said gentlemen during my stay, and am pleased to say that nothing has been wanting to make this visit among the most pleasant of my life. It has afforded me an opportunity for meeting so many of my old friends and acquaintances from this and other states:

The conference has a very large attendance here and has been pushing the work studiously, with Bishop R. S. Foster in the chair, He is the very type of ability. Kind hearted, courteous and genial in manner, an example which every minister and member loves to honor. He preached the annual sermon Sunday noon, and so eager were the people to hear him that some did not go home from love feast, for fear they would be unable to get seats; the church was densely packed, it would not hold the half present. After listening with attention, and observing with what distinguished ability he presented the subject of his text, I concluded that the Bishop was a mine of learning from which our finest talent could collect its best knowledge.

It give me pleasure to note that the colored congregations here have built very nice churches, and all over the town I see nice little houses belonging to our colored friends, adding so much to the growth, population and wealth of Lumberton, which is fast growing, and will soon be one of the leading inland towns of the state.

The Laurenburg academy is a normal and college preparatory school, under the special management of Prof. N. W. Harllee, whose services give greater satisfaction each year. This school holds out special inducements in every way to all who wish to be educated.—The property is owned exclusively by the colored people, and ere long will compete with the best institutions of the state.

Prof. Harllee is the leader of this county, is popular with all classes and was county examiner for two years; is of fine educational ability, was graduated with high honors from the regular college course of Biddle University.—In conversation with my friends I find him unanimously endorsed for the position of Register of Deeds in his county. J. H. W.

LUMBERTON, Jan. 31, 1882.

I reached this place on the eastern bound train at one o'clock P. M., on Monday. Here as everywhere else I see improvements among the colored people. There are two or three well filled stores owned by them, and many other signs of progress, among which may be mentioned the churches. There are two or three new ones, well built, neatly painted, and will compare favorably with those of the whites. It gives me pleasure to state that the colored people here are advancing in education. Their schools are crowded with pupils, eager for knowledge. Here is located the Whitin Normal School, exclusively under the supervision of Prof. D. P. Allen, a graduate of the State Normal School of Westfield, Mass., and who is highly esteemed by all classes of the citizens. He is one of the most earnest workers in the interest of education among the colored people in this section. During the present winter he has charge of the Public School, which numbers 104 pupils. During the spring and summer the Whitin Normal School is conducted by Prof. Allen in the same building. This school has grown from the smallest beginning to a school of the highest grade, and it stands high among the educational institutions of the state. Too much cannot be said in honor of Prof. Allen's work for the colored people in this section; to him all the teachers in the county owe their education. By his own energy, and with the aid of northern friends, he has erected one of the finest school buildings for colored people to be found anywhere in the country. The building is a wooden structure, two stories high, 45x35 feet, with a large, well furnished hall, 37x35 feet, with desks, black boards, charts, books, maps, &c. Many of the young men and women from the surrounding counties are trained here during the spring and summer. These seeking institutions of learning where they may be fitted for teachers would do well to attend this school.

I met several other leading Republicans, among whom may be mentioned R. K. Procter, Esq., W. P. Russ, Esq., W. E. Thompson, J. F. McNeill, H. H. Smith, J. Westfield and many others, who encouraged me and aided me in securing subscribers to the Wilmington POST.

This is the home of my friend John Holloway, whose absence I regretted very much, for with his aid my success would have been far greater in the glorious work. J. H. W.

THE WILMINGTON POST.

WILMINGTON, N. C.

SUNDAY MORNING, FEB 5, 1882.

For the Post.

Hon. Olando Hubbs, The Only Republican Representative From North Carolina.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 30, 1882.

North Carolina in general, and the Republican party in particular, has never had a more faithful guardian of their respective rights, here at the Capital of the nation, than the gentleman whose name heads this article. From his first visit to this city after his election until to-day, he has earnestly devoted most of his time and attention to the long neglected interests of his constituents and shown a zeal in their behalf, of which all of his predecessors cannot boast.

This however will be no surprise to those who knew him prior to his election. The manner in which he discharged the various public trusts committed to his care and keeping, was a sufficient guarantee that nothing in his power would be left undone that he could do, for the welfare of those whose chosen representative he is. Long before taking his seat as a member of the present Congress, he had spent several weeks in visiting the departments and not simply recommending, but securing the appointment of quite a number of active North Carolinians.

There are two classes of persons here, hailing from the Old North State, the active and the inactive. The active are those who go home and vote, pay taxes there, who assist in the development of its latent resources and the elevation and education of its people. To put multum in parvo, the active are those who are thoroughly identified with the best interests of our commonwealth. The inactive are those who have no interest whatever in anything that concerns the state, or the people thereof. They are those who have made great sacrifices, as they would have us believe, in order to serve "Uncle Sam," who in return, pays them such penurious wages, that they cannot save anything and as they say, they could do better elsewhere. They are those who tell "the poor d—l" who comes here in search of employment, that this is the worst place in creation to get anything to do, and the position of field hand at home, is far more preferable to the petty places without profit, honor or trust, to be had in the departments. Like the man who after spending a half century in the government employ, upon being granted an indefinite leave of absence, remarked: "I have always said that there was no certainty in a government office." So they will tell you that the tenure of office here is too precarious to make the sacrifice required in order to fill it. Notwithstanding, I notice they never seek to better their condition by a change.

Though comparisons are sometimes odious, I might justly compare these two classes with the two great forces in nature, the centripetal, which tends toward the centre and the centrifugal which flies from the centre. As the former force acts in nature, so does the former class act in politics and everything else that tends toward the prosperity of our state and people. But the latter class like the latter force, is simply vice versa.

Having thus classified North Carolina's "quota," it is not difficult to see why Mr. Hubbs should favor the active class, when we remember that not only all of his public, but private interests as well, are centred in the state. And when I say this I do not mean to convey the idea that he is actuated by a selfish motive; because the reverse is true. While he has not neglected his immediate constituents, he has not forgotten that he is the only Republican Representative from North Carolina, and thus, by usage, recognized as the dispenser of the patronage of the entire state. He has not allowed any part of the state to suffer when relief was within his power.

As an evidence of this fact, I would refer the skeptical to the following list of appointments which he has by his personal attention secured in the various deparments, viz: Messrs. W. A. Boyd, Richard Rowlett, A. T. Jackson, W. H. Outlaw, C. Smith, Osborne Hunter, jr., W. H. Moore, Wm. Whyte, George Lane, postmaster at Edenton; Cols. Thomas Powers, Robert Hancock, jr., and a number of others, whose names I cannot mention just now.—Through his recommendation, Messrs. Richard Ward, C. N. Hunter, J. E. Hamlin, among others, have received appointments under the federal officials in whose offices they are now employed. This alone speaks volumes in favor of the subject of this sketch, and if this was all, it would more than equal the accomplishments, judging from a material standpoint, some who have preceded him during their entire term, to say nothing of the early part of their first session.

But he does not spend all of his time in the departments in search of appointments. He is one of the most pass-ent members of the House, and is looking after the public as well as the private interests of his people. Among legislative efforts may be mentioned the appropriation of bills for the erection of U. S. Court House and Hospital at Newbern, N. C., bills for the establishment of Light Houses in Pamlico sound, bills for appropriations for rivers and harbors, and a number of bills for other things of equal importance to our people.

This is a summary of Mr. Hubbs' early congressional life, and an earnest of his future usefulness. Now, if he has accomplished so much in so short a time, you may rest assured that before the close of his first term he will merit the most flattering endorsement that can be given by those whom he so faithfully represents. OCIOLA.

Fees and Doctors.

The fees of doctors is an item that very many persons are interested in just at present. We believe the schedule for visits is $3 00, which would tax a man confined to his bed for a year, and in need of daily visits, over $1,000 a year, for medical attendance alone! And one single bottle of Hop Bitters taken in time would save the $1,000 and all the year's sickness.—Post.

Colored M. E. Conference.

Speaking of the Conference held at Laurinburg, the Enterprise, published at that place, says:

The colored M. E. Conference of the northern church, convened with the church at this place on Thursday, and was presided over by Bishop R. S. Foster, D. D. LL.D. of the northern College of Bishops. Rev. W. F. Steele, D. D., Principal of Bennett Seminary, Greensbero, N. C., was chosen secretary. There were also other distinguished white gentlemen in attendance, among them Rev. E. Q. Fuller, D. D., of Atlanta, Ga., editor of the Methodist Advance, and Rev. D. B. Ford, D. D., Secretary of the Southern S. S. Union. We were unable to secure the minutes of the Conference, but from a private note addressed to us by the secretary, we are enabled to give our readers the following information:—Among the changes made Rev. L. B. Gibson succeeds Rev. E. Morton as Presiding Elder of this District, Rev. W. H. Smith, formerly pastor of the church at this place, has been removed to Greensboro, and the vacancy thereby occasioned here has been filled by the appointment of Rev. H. M. Murphy. The deliberations of the Conference were harmonious and pleasant, and were largely attended by the colored people from the surrounding country. The secretary's report showed that $350 had been raised during the past year for connectional benevolent purposes, and $7,500 for ministerial support. The Conference was organized 15 years ago, and has now 50 stations and circuits, about 7,500 members and probationers, and owns church property to the amount of $50,000. It is well equipped for the work it is seeking to accomplish, viz: the elevation of the religious character of homes, churches and schools among the colored people. Before adjournment complimentary resolutions were adopted thanking the people of Laurinburg for the hearty welcome and many courteous favors extended to the members of the Conference and to their visitors, both white and colored.

In response to invitations from the white Methodist church here, on Sunday morning Rev. Dr. Fuller, of Atlanta, preached in the same, delivering an eloquent, but plain and practical sermon, from the text found in the 73d Psalm. In the afternoon Dr. D. B. Ford, one of the most entertaining speakers we ever heard, addressed the combined Sunday Schools of the place in the Methodist church. At night Bishop Foster, although much fatigued from the arduous labors performed during the day and the previous week, delivered a most excellent sermon in vindication of the Bible as the word of God, and in an effort of an hour and ten minutes duration recapitulated the prophecies pointing to the important events recorded in the New Testament —especially the advent and work of Christ upon earth, and combining and urging these in proof of the divine originality of the Bible. His argument was plain, practical and convincing, and so conclusive that a wayfaring man, though an infidel, would be compelled to admit it incontrovertible.

At each service, morning, afternoon and night, the church was densely crowded, and our citizens generally have expressed themselves delighted with the several discourses.

The Conference after a short session Monday morning, adjourned, and the distinguished gentlemen left on the afternoon train. During his visitation, Bishop Foster was the guest of that hospitable gentleman, Col. J. T. Roper.

TOWN CREEK, N. C., Feb. 1, '82.

MR. EDITOR:—Having seen nothing published, from this section, in your paper recently, I will give you a few items. Farmers are behind time this season. Labor is very scarce; many hands, white and colored, have left the county to search fields of labor in South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama and Arkansas. There will be a great falling off in all produce this year; there will not be more than one-fourth the commercial fertilizers used this year, in Brunswick, that have been heretofore, people intend to do without, if they break for the want of it—a wise conclusion—cotton seed are far superior to the best guano. Using commercial fertilizers and growing nothing but cotton, and purchasing our corn, bacon and hay from the north and west will in a few years reduce the cotton belt to bankruptcy—almost sure to be so. If men run their farms under a cropping mortgage the merchants get all the profits

The colored men are doing well in our county, all things considered.—There are 240 who own land and are making a living; some are making money. Recently several families have moved in from other localities and purchased lands. We have land and room for 1,000, and wish they would come and purchase all the lands lying waste in the county. The colored men are more persevering in the cause of education than the whites, I am ashamed to say, but it is a fact. There is money in our county treasury to the credit of some white school districts, where there has not been a school in four years. In some districts where there are schools, not half the children attend. The last legislature amended the school law, making it the duty of the county commissioners to levy a tax sufficient to run a school in each district four months in every year. They will have to pass an act compelling parents and guardians to send their children to school—

In the district where I live we have a No. 1 teacher employed, there are 45 children entitled to go, and 20 have never attended—it is a waste of money under such management.

I notice the colored men in several counties have held meetings, expressing their desire to be represented in the jury box. This is right and just. They should have a fair and impartial showing in our courts. E. W. TAYLOR.

TARBORO, N. C., Jan. 31, '82.

EDITOR POST:—Allow me a small space in your very excellent paper to express my thanks for your splendid fight in behalf of our party, and to wish you success in your undertaking. Mr. W. P. Mabson is a good man and makes a splendid teacher, and he is a very useful Republican—a man of ability and character.

I am opposed to those men who are very polite to us until they get in office, then know us no more until the next election. The colored people are very good voters, but poor officeholders, so these men say, by their acts.

We want all of our rights, and we intend to stand by the man who supports our endeavors to get them. We are all friends to the POST, because the POST is the friend of the colored man.

We are in favor of the colored state convention to consider the jury question, and hope much good will come out of it. May the Lord bless you.

W. ROBINSON.

For the Wilmington Post.

FAYETTEVILLE, Jan. 31, 1882.

MR. EDITOR:—A friend informs me that a paper in you city, called the Review, has puplished that I am a candidate for the office held by Maj. W. P. Canaday. I have not seen the paper but the information comes from a source which leaves no room for doubt. It such is the case, that paper must be at a loss for something to publish. It is true, that I have held a few offices, but never of my own seeking. I shall certainly not turn officeseeker at this late day. If I was seeking an office Major Canaday is the last man I should want removed to make room for me. I do not know any man in this state who has so fearlessly demanded equal rights for my people as he has, and ingratitude is not a characteristic of the black man. Besides this, my notion is, that Major Canaday's business habits peculiarly fit him for the position, and the government would be injured by his removal, unless it was to put him into a larger sphere of usefulness.

Lastly; I find that my special calling is to seek the souls that are lost, and I am inclined to give more attention to this than anything else. I have certainly had a larger degree of success in this than in any other work of my life.

Just eighteen years ago I came to this state to plant the first branch of the African Methodist Episcopal Church, (called Zion.) Two others followed me, one of whom died in a few months and the other fell from grace, and I was left the only representative of my church. Nevertheless the work spread; the men whom I licensed to preach licensed others, and so the work has extended, until in this state alone, we number 50,000 members, over 200 preachers and nearly 500 churches, erected by our people without outside aid. The M. E. Church commenced in New Berne more than a year before we did; it has sent a number of men from the north with books and tracts and other supplies for the church and Sabbath school work, and has spent thousands of dollars in furtherance of its work, yet it is doubtful if they have 5,000 colored members in the state. Two representatives of the Bethel A. M. E. Church reached New Berne in the steamer with me, and since that they have had nearly a dozen able northern men in the field, but do not number one-fourth the members we do. I do not mean to speak disparagingly of either of the above mentioned churches; they are both powerful churches in some sections. I only mention these facts to show that without the means that others have been able to employ we have accomplished more.—I think it shows that I got at the right work, and I think I shall stick to it as closely as the press and politicians will allow me. Meanwhile I shall have the consolation to hope that the Review will be on hand to further my political aspirations if I should be troubled at any time with that distressing disease.

Yours truly, J. W. HOOD.

SHOE HEEL, N. C., Jan. 31, '82.

DEAR POST:—Through invitation of Hon. R. H. Jolly and Mr. J. M. McArthur to visit this section, their home, in the interest of the POST, I am here, and through their assistance have secured a handsome list of subscribers, which I enclose to you, as I have also from Laurinburg and Lumberton. I am the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Jolly, who have entertained me in the finest style, and have made my visit here second to none in my travels. For myself and the POST I wish them a long and happy life, for they are a "jolly" good family. I also had the pleasure of meeting with a few of my old white Wilmington friends and acquaintances, in our childhood days; among them I am pleased to mention Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Bishop and Mr. J. W. Robbins, who welcomed the POST and its representative by adding much to our list. In my tour through Robeson and Richmond counties I have but one fault to find, viz: there is not one colored Republican in a single public position, federal or otherwise. This shows very bad for white Republicans in this section. Why, the Democrats would do better than that, for they once telegraphed to hold Robeson and save the state for their friends; and we think it high time that our more favored brethren were waking up from their drowsy slumbers, before it is a day too late, for the negro has now been away from Africo's sunny clime more than a day. A hint to the wise ought to be sufficient. With more another time, I am as ever.

J. H. W.
